HIT HIM ON THE SHOULDER.

Good Prohibition Leader Barely Missed Being Killed.

Mr. W. H. Hamlin of McCormick, was in town last Monday. He informs the Press and Banner that Mr. W. O. Sturkey, prohibition leader, about McCormick, was nearly killed one day last week. As we understand, Mr. Sturkey was innocently mousing a log that had just been lowered in the ground by the hooks of the log cart. When the animal attached to the log cart moved off, one of the hooks caught in the side of the log. This upended the chain that was fastened around the revolving axle on the top of the cart. At the time the revolving axle had in one of its eyes a strong lever. When the axle turned it threw the lever down with great force, striking Mr. Sturkey on the shoulder. Instead of on the head. Some bones were broken in his shoulder and some joints were dislocated.

Mr. Hamlin reports that the physicians said, if the lever had come down on the top of his head, instead of on his shoulder, that Mr. Sturkey would not have ever gotten up. He was hit on the head, Mr. Sturkey has been a great sufferer ever since, being in bed part of the time.

Mr. Hamlin did not inform us whether this accident was intended to be taken as a warning to other prohibitionists, or whether the hitting of Mr. Sturkey on the shoulder instead of upon the head was merely to teach him the possible fate that awaits him if he persists in trying to make McCormick pay for our Court by taxation. Instead of allowing Georgians and people from the adjoining counties to settle the bill. But whatever the lesson, the Press and Banner is truly glad that the lever did not come down on the top of Mr. Sturkey's head. As that mighty instrument had hit him at all, it is better that it did hit him in a place that would cause some suffering and give him time for pious meditation as well as a chance to serve the cause of temperance during the coming campaign. We need him in the cause of temperance, but we do not know what the adjoining counties, and the State of Georgia may think about it. And really we do not care as long as good man as Mr. Sturkey is not hit on the top of his head.

COMMONWEALTH OF VIRGINIA.

It gives me pleasure to endorse Miss Kate Elsmere Puller as an eloquent. Miss Puller has frequently delighted Richmond audiences with her excellent work and she merits the success which she has achieved in her profession.

TO EVERYBODY.

Every now and then we meet a God made story teller, who without airs brings before us a story so real that the people in it live, move, and have their being. Miss Puller has the gift. I heartily commend her as one of the best story tellers I have ever heard.

Misses Mary and Eloise Brown of Cross Hill are in college in town. They were here in college in 1907.

Miss Joe Caldwell is a former student of the D. W. F. C. and is attending the Amelien Celebration which takes place Monday night.

The receipts from the Amelien Celebration for the first three months of 1908, were $1,993.33. This gives an increase over the previous quarter of $28.75.

Perhaps such an increase will not be maintained during the remainder of the year. I cannot tell.

The number of money orders issued during the first three months of 1907, were 1763. During the first three months of 1908, there were issued 1963, showing an increase of 199 orders.

As will be seen, these figures extend over a period of only three months. I think we may expect an increase each quarter, in the natural course of things, though it will probably be not very rapid, unless some new industry were established, which would bring more people and money to the town.

THIRSTY BROTHER.

Not Able to Find a Drink of Whiskey in McCormick.

Messrs. W. H. Carroll and W. H. Hamlin of McCormick were in town for a day or two last week and jokingly said that they would help build the court house. From Mr. Hamlin we learn that there is a stranger in McCormick who has not been able to get a drink of whiskey in the town.

"Nine years ago it looked as if my time had come," says Mr. C. Farthing, of Mill Creek, Ind. Ter. "I was so run down that life hung on a very slender thread. It was then my druggist recommended Electric Bitters. I bought a bottle and I got what I needed—strength. I had one foot in the grave, but Electric Bitters put it back on the turf again, and I've been well ever since." Sold under guarantee at P. B. Speed's drug store. 50c.
